COLONEL ROOSEVELT IS DEAD

WILBUR DONOVAN OF XENIA WAS ON STRANDED SHIP

News that one Xenia boy, Wilbur Donovan, was on the stranded transport, "Northern Pacific" which was grounded on Fire Island, has just been received by his brother, Harry Donovan. The news came from Mrs. Ben R. McClellan of this city, who is with her husband, Captain B. R. McClellan, who is located at Debarcation Hospital No. 3, to which hospital the Xenia boy was taken.

Although he was aboard what was known as a ship of wounded overseas men, Mr. Donovan was not wounded but has been suffering from pneumonia following an attack of influenza. Friends here are glad to hear that he is now getting along alright. The letter received by Mr. Donovan is as follows:

"My Dear Mr. Donovan:
"When Captain McClellan came in to dinner tonight he told me that your brother, Wilbur, was one of the men taken from the "Northern Pacific" today, and brought to Debarcation Hospital No. 3, where Captain McClellan is stationed, as you may remember. You no doubt read of the steamer grounding near Fire Island on Wednesday in a dense fog. Nearly all the men are off now, except a couple of hundred very badly wounded ones.

"As soon as Captain McClellan knew your brother was in No. 3, he looked him up and asked me to write you that he is doing very well. He is not under Captain McClellan's care, as he is in the medical ward, while the Captain has surgical wards, but he is in good hands. He had influenza, followed by pneumonia, but is doing very nicely now. Eats well, feels well, sleeps well, and is contented, so the Captain said to tell you.

"In writing him because of the large number of men under this one roof, it will be well for you to address Floor and Ward thus, U. S. A. Debarcation Hospital No. 3, 6th Avenue and 18th street, N. Y., Floor S, ward 9.

"This hospital is a wonderful place in many ways; its equipment, its management and its care, but the most wonderful of all is the sight of the young men who are going through it on their way from overseas to other hospitals. Such bright, cheery, happy fellows! Proud of the blood they have shed, and the injuries they have received because they know they have helped to make the world the better by just so much. It is fine to see them!

"Very truly yours,
"IONE R. McCLELLAN."

STATE ORDERS TO BE IGNORED

Washington, Jan. 6.—Attempts by state authorities to change intra-state railroad rates ordered by the railroad administration will be ignored, Director General McAdoo stated today. Such a division of authority would defeat the law, Director General held in an opinion made public today. The law, McAdoo holds, intends that during federal control, rates may be initiated to apply both to interstate and intra-state.

OHIO HONORS ROOSEVELT

The governor directed that the state house flag be flown at half-mast.

BOLSHEVISM IS GAINING GROUND NOW IN GERMANY

Berlin, Jan. 5.—Bolshevism in Germany is in general an intellectual movement with practically no violence, as compared with the Russian variety.

This form of radicalism is slowly gaining ground in Germany. The reasons for this can be summed up as follows:

First—Russian funds are being spent freely by agitators among the workmen and soldiers.

Second—There is a growing fear that entente capitalism intends to exploit Germany.

Third—Unemployment and lack of food continues.

Men out of work and deserters from army and navy, who are finding it increasingly difficult to get enough to eat, are easily influenced by the Bolsheviks.

Most of the followers of Karl Liebknecht, the recognized leader of the movement, are to be found in Berlin, Bremen, and a few other industrial districts in the Rhine Land and Silesia.

It is impossible to obtain actual figures as to the number of Bolsheviks in Germany, but the national elections indicate they are in a very small minority.

At a recent meeting of the Spartacists, only a hundred delegates were present from all parts of the country.

EIGHTY-THIRD OHIO GENERAL ASSEMBLY CONVENES MONDAY

Columbus, Jan. 6.—The eighty-third General Assembly, Republican in both houses, convened today and planned after perfecting organization to adjourn for one week, when for the first time in ten years, the legislature will receive the message of a governor of opposite political faith from the majority of the assembly.

Earl D. Bloom, retiring lieutenant governor, called the senate to order. Bloom will preside until Monday Jan. 13, when he will be succeeded by C. J. Brown lieutenant governor elect.

Secretary of State Fulton called the lower house to order and will preside until Carl R. Kimball, Lake county, selected speaker by the Republicans at their caucus, is elected.

Carl Kimball of Lake county, floor leader in the 81st assembly, was chosen speaker of the house by the Republican majority and John Maynard, Lima, clerk. Other officers decided upon at the caucus a week ago were elected.

In senate, Frank Whittemore, Akron, was elected president pro tem of the senate, and William E. Halley, of Greenville, was chosen clerk.

The organization formed and the vote of the November election canvassed according to law, the assembly was expected to adjourn until next Monday, when Governor Cox will take the oath of office and submit his message to the legislature.

Not since the inauguration of Gov. Harmon in 1909 has a governor presented his message to a legislature of opposite political control.

Republicans were sworn into all other state offices today with the exception of secretary of state, where a contest has developed over the legality of the election of Judge Harvey C. Smith, Zanesville and state auditor, as A. V. Donahy's term has still two years to run.

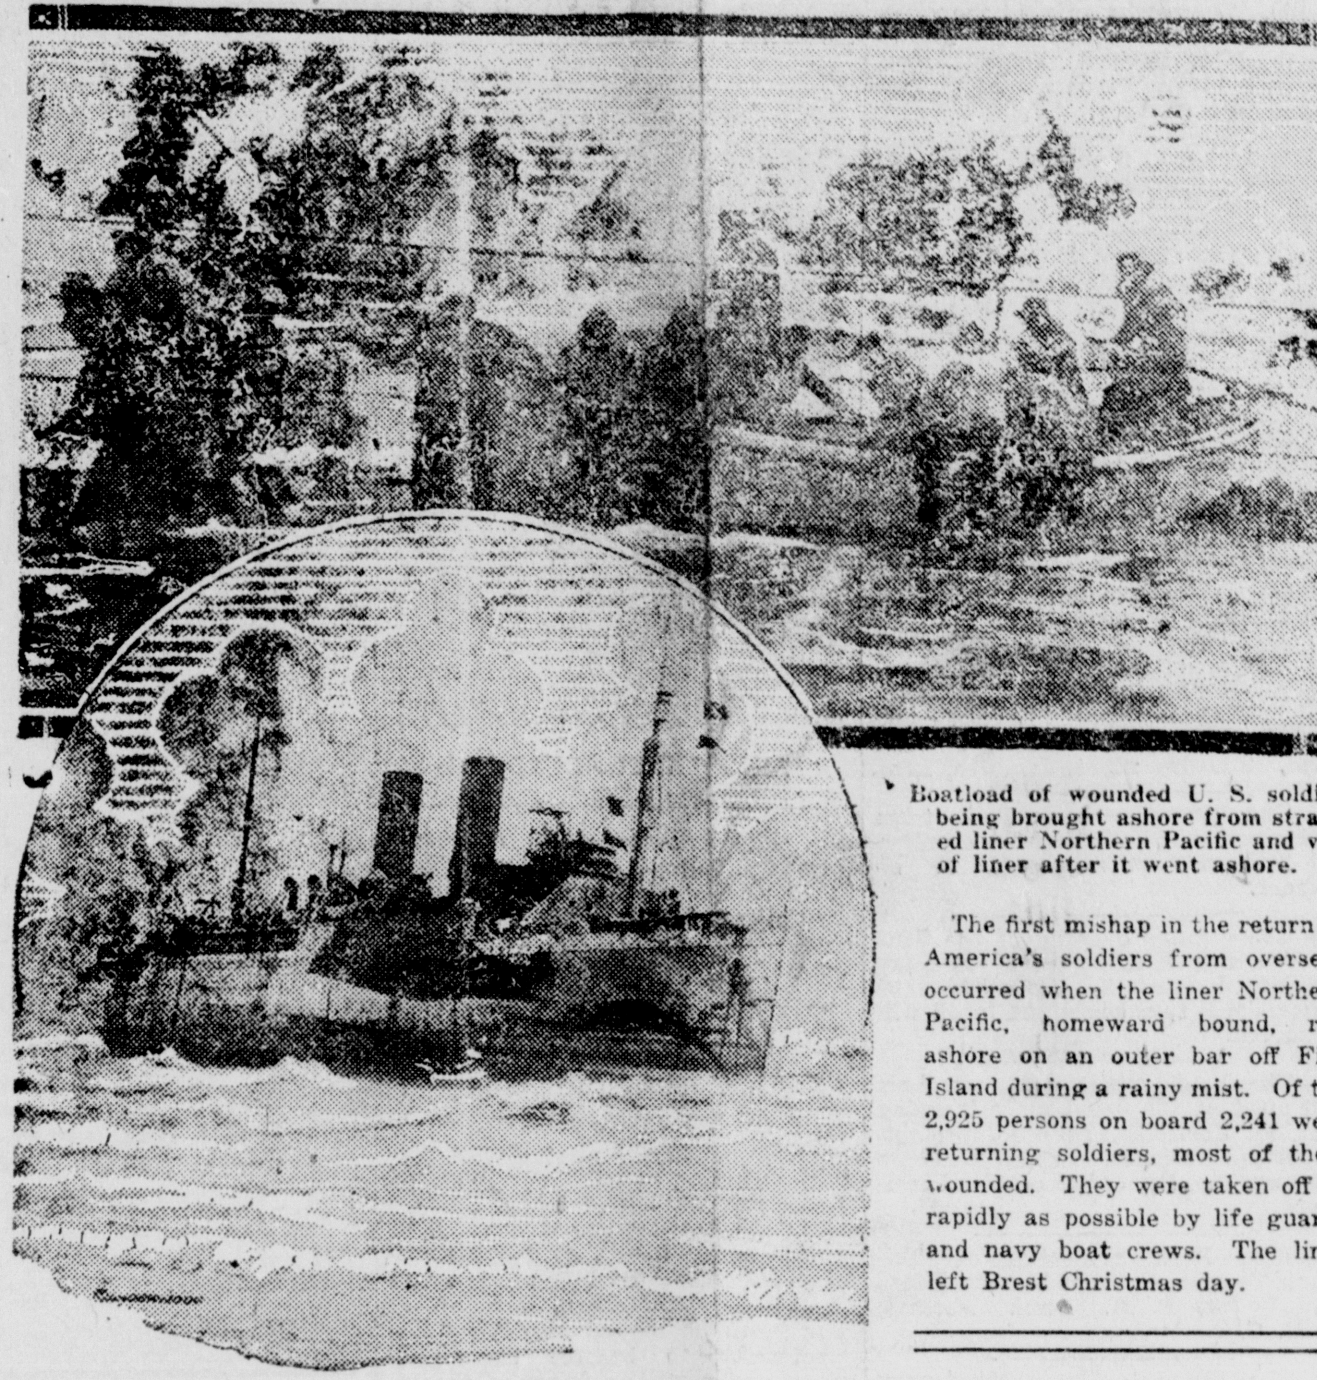

Rudy A. Archer succeeds Chester Bryan as treasurer; John G. Price takes the place of Joseph McGhee as attorney general and Clarence J. Brown becomes lieutenant governor to succeed Earl D. Bloom.

DISCHARGED SOLDIER IS CRITICALLY ILL

Cleveland, Jan. 6.—A discharged soldier from Camp Sherman was taken unconscious from the union depot to Lake Erie Hospital, here today.

His condition, which physicians attribute to morphine poisoning, is critical. Papers in his pocket, it is believed, identify him as John Rensler, 1322 Huron street, Toledo.

WOUNDED SOLDIERS ARE RESCUED WHEN LINER RUNS ASHORE

Load of wounded U. S. soldiers being brought ashore from stranded liner Northern Pacific and view of liner after it went ashore.

The first mishap in the return of America's soldiers from overseas occurred when the liner Northern Pacific, homeward bound, ran ashore on an outer bar off Fire Island during a rainy mist. Of the 2,925 persons on board 2,241 were returning soldiers, most of them wounded. They were taken off as rapidly as possible by life guards and navy boat crews. The liner left Brest Christmas day.

PEOPLE OF THE WORLD MUST DICTATE THE PEACE SETTLEMENT AND NOT STATESMEN SAYS WILSON

By Robert J. Bender.

Milan, Jan. 5.—(Night)—The peace settlement must be dictated by the people of the world, not by the statesmen, President Wilson declared today in acknowledging bestowal of a citizenship of Milan upon him.

The peace delegates must abide by the spirit of the working classes and obtain for the general interest, instead of special interests, the President said. The workers are the leaders in establishing international opinion, which must be the guide of the peace conferences throughout their labors.

The president urged that the league of nations be regarded as the most fundamental part of the peace settlement.

Following presentation of a memorial from wounded Italians, President Wilson said:

"Your ideals are ours. These ideals must become those of the peace delegates. The league of nations will prevent repetition of this war."

The president later received a delegation of Mothers and Widows, all in mourning.

"American boys came to Europe to help make the world free," he said to them. "We will see that their work was not in vain. The league of nations will result in preventing war."

The reception accorded President Wilson upon his arrival in Milan was perhaps the most enthusiastic he has encountered in Europe. He and Mrs. Wilson were nearly dragged from their carriages by the eager crowds.

The climax came, when after he had arrived at the palace, the president stood on a balcony and led a band in playing the Italian anthem. As he swung his arms in rhythm to the music, smiling all the while, the people went literally crazy with enthusiasm.

When the presidential party arrived in Genoa yesterday, it was raining but the weather failed to dampen the spirits of the people. His three-hour stay there was crowded with demonstrations of wild enthusiasm.

The weather suddenly cleared and the sun was shining brightly as the special train pulled into Milan. In a brief speech at the station, the President said he knew the spirit of the people was behind the demonstration.

As the party started for the palace, the police and secret service men, were unable to keep back the throngs who nearly swept the President and his wife from their carriages. Mrs. Wilson's carriage was flooded with flowers, which she tossed back to the people as souvenirs. Many fought for a touch of Mrs. Wilson's hands or kiss her garments.

Arriving at the palace, President and Mrs. Wilson were repeatedly called to the balcony by the insistent clamors of the crowd. It was estimated that 50,000 persons were massed in the street below.

In response to demands, the President said he was unable to make a formal speech.

"But I wish to say 'God bless you all' and 'viva Italia,'" he said.

Then the band struck up the Italian national anthem and the President sent the people wild by leading the music. Placards have been posted all over Milan bearing greetings to the president and stating that Italy's only peace aim is the restoration of her natural borders. These sentiments were backed up by the mayor in his address of welcome.

FORMER GERMAN CHANCELLOR VON HERTLING DEAD

Copenhagen, Jan. 6.—Count George Von Hertling, former German Chancellor, is dead in Rhedol Ruhpolding, Bavaria, Saturday night, following an illness of six days.

Von Hertling was born in Dammstadt in 1843. He was a member of the reichstag from 1875 to 1912, and was appointed Chancellor in October, 1917, succeeding Dr. George Michaelis. He resigned just a year later.

FLU EPIDEMIC IS ON THE WANE

The epidemic of influenza is on the wane in Xenia and all parts of the county.

Physicians everywhere report a great falling off in the number of new cases, and lessening of the pneumonia. Many persons are still suffering from complications and nervous troubles following the influenza.

Dr. R. L. Haines of Paintersville, remarked Saturday that there could not be another epidemic of the malady in Caesarcreek township unless the people took it a second time, as there are only a few people in that part of the county, who did not contract the malady during the two waves which swept the county.

SCHEIDEMANN AND EBERT MAY RESIGN

Amsterdam, Jan. 6.—Berlin newspapers declared today that Chancellor Ebert, Philip Scheidemann and other majority socialist members of the German cabinet have offered their resignations to the central council of Soviets.

Will cease hostilities.
Rotterdam, Jan. 5.—The Germans have agreed to cease hostilities, following a joint conference at Hohen-salza, according to the Berliner Zeitung Nittag.

CLOT OF BLOOD ON THE HEART IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Oyster Bay, Jan. 6.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt died in his sleep at 4:15 o'clock this morning.

The end came when there was no one in the room but his valet.

The following statement was made to the United Press by Dr. G. W. Faller, of Oyster Bay, the physician who last saw the Colonel:

"Col. Roosevelt retired at 12 o'clock last night feeling much better. At 4:15 this morning he simply ceased to breathe. Death was caused probably by a pulmonary embolism."

This pulmonary embolism, the doctor explained is a blood clot which forms in the arteries of the lungs. The funeral will be Wednesday, from Christ Episcopal church.

Rev. Dr. George D. Talmadge will officiate, and interment will be in the Young Memorial cemetery at Oyster Bay Cove.

At the time of death, the only persons in the house at Sagamore Hill were Col. Roosevelt, his wife and the servants.

Col. Roosevelt spent Sunday evening reading, conversing with Mrs. Roosevelt and chatting with Dr. Faller, who found him apparently much improved and in excellent spirits. He also dictated a number of letters. Despite his recent return from the hospital where he was confined for weeks by an attack of scatica, with painful complications, he had much of his old vigor.

When Dr. Faller left him, Roosevelt and took to Cuba, the famous Roosevelt's Rough Riders. Major General Leonard Wood, now in command of a division of the United States army, helped him organize this command.

When Dr. Faller left him, Roosevelt was laughing and called "good night," most cheerfully. At midnight he retired. Mrs. Roosevelt sat with him for a while, then as he fell asleep, she went to her own room. At 4:15 a. m. the man servant became alarmed and called the nurse. There was nothing that could be done. Roosevelt was dead.

Mrs. Roosevelt was called. She took the shock bravely. Dr. Faller arrived a few minutes later, Roosevelt lay as if sleeping. He did not move in the bed as he died, but lay just as he was when his wife stepped out of the room shortly after midnight.

Col. Roosevelt was sixty years old having been born in New York, October 27, 1858. He was the 26th president of the United States, having succeeded to the presidency on the death of William McKinley, who was shot and killed at Buffalo, N. Y. His health had not been very good for some time. In fact, he left Roosevelt hospital only a short time ago and had undergone an operation at the hospital and was practically deaf as a result of it.

The life of the former president is one of the most brilliant chapters in American history. Loved and admired in some quarters, he succeeded, however, in acquiring the enmity of many prominent men and his latter life was filled with strife on one hand and preparation for even more strenuous public life on the other.

It was popularly believed, in fact, that Roosevelt would make an effort to become president again at the next national election although no expression had come from him.

The most recent great public effort of Roosevelt came at the last Republican National Convention, when, after the Republicans had refused to nominate him, he threw his strength to Senator Lodge. The latter however, failed of nomination and Charles E. Hughes was named to oppose Woodrow Wilson. Hughes then gained full support of Col. Roosevelt.

Roosevelt's war record was full of patriotic movements. His opposition to the Democratic administration in its conduct of the war also was marked.

At the outbreak of hostilities he wanted to raise a regiment of soldiers and head it in an expedition to France. His offer was refused.

He was a pioneer in the plan for military preparedness and fought for a large and powerful navy long before this country entered the war.

The first claim to national fame by Roosevelt came when he organized

General Wood at that time was a surgeon in the army.

It was largely the result of this regiment's work at the battle of San Juan Hill that Roosevelt returned to New York a popular hero. He was

YOUNG YELLOW SPRINGS WOMAN IS LAID TO REST

Many friends who loved her as girl and young wife, gathered to pay a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Kathryn Stephenson Collins, at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Stephenson in Yellow Springs, Sunday afternoon when funeral services were held. The casket bearing the body of the young woman was buried under lovely flowers, many of which were the offering of friends of Dr. and Mrs. Collins, in Kentville, N. S., where Mrs. Collins died.

Rev. Gaehr, pastor of the Presbyterian church and Prof. William Dawson, of Antioch college, conducted the simple, but impressive service. Dr. Dawson read selections from the scriptures and offered prayer. He gave a discourse in which he spoke as a personal friend of both Dr. and Mrs. Collins. Rev. Gaehr offered prayer.

Interment was in Yellow Springs cemetery, and the pallbearers were: Lehr Fess, Walter Corry, Harold Bryson, Robert Bryson, Robert S. Kingsbury and Dr. R. R. Richison.

FUNDERBURG IS NOW SHERIFF OF GREENE COUNTY

It is now Sheriff Lincoln Funderburg.

Sheriff Funderburg assumed his new office Monday morning, succeeding his former chief, Frank A. Jackson.

Assisting Sheriff Funderburg in the duties of his office is his deputy, George A. Birch, who recently removed from his Fairfield pike farm, to the new home which he bought on North King street, formerly the residence of Dr. Jesse Johnson.

Sheriff Funderburg is a Bath township man, but he has lived in this city since he became deputy sheriff four years ago. His home has been at 434 North Galloway street, which property he bought after he came to Xenia. He and Mrs. Funderburg moved Monday into the jail residence just vacated by the retiring sheriff and his wife.

The first work for Sheriff Funderburg as a county official was to take charge of the grand jury which convened for the January term Monday morning. It was a busy grand jury with lots of witnesses and the new sheriff and his deputy had little time to receive the congratulations of their friends, plunging at once into the business which awaited them.

Sheriff Funderburg, during the four years he served as deputy had opportunity to become thoroughly acquainted with the duties of the office to which he was elected last November, and he is well qualified for the position. Both the new sheriff and his deputy were formerly farmers. Mr. Funderburg's farm in Bath township, four and one half miles southeast of Osborn, is occupied by his son Ralph and family.

NINE CASES ARE UP FOR INVESTIGATION BY THE GRAND JURY

Nine cases were up for investigation by the grand jury which convened for the January term Monday morning. There were a large number of witnesses to examine, and Prosecuting Attorney Harry D. Smith, was of the opinion that the jury would not be able to make a report to the court before Tuesday. Prosecutor Smith was out Monday for the first time in a week, after having been ill of influenza.

Among the most interesting cases being probed are those against four local men bound over on charges of grand larceny in connection with recently disclosed American Express thefts, Ralph Morrow, Omer Mason, Ralph Foley and Lawrence Davis.

The case of Mrs. Tony Bille, who threw a solution of nitric acid in her husband's face Christmas Eve, is under investigation, but owing to the condition of the injured man, who is not able to testify, the probe in this case may have to be continued. Because of the lack of material witnesses, the testimony of the victim is necessary.

The jury is also investigating the case of William and John Bakely, of Spring Valley, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated. While they were in that condition, it is charged, their automobile ran down Vaughn Griffiths, of Bellbrook, who was seriously injured.

Other cases to be investigated are the Adsit case, from Jamestown; a charge of stealing an automobile from Joseph Boroff in which four Xenia boys are implicated, and that of Marshall Ricky, of Gladstone, charged with assault.

GREAT MEETING AT 2ND U. P. CHURCH

The observance of the week of prayer opened most auspiciously at the First United Presbyterian church, Sabbath evening, when the First and Second churches united in a union service, which will be carried throughout the week. A large audience listened attentively to a most timely message, which was presented by Dr. Proudfoot of the Second church.

A duet by Miss Davidson and Mr. Eavey was splendidly received and added greatly to the service.

ANOTHER XENIA BOY ON TRANSPORT NORTHERN PACIFIC

Ralph Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Richards of Center street, was a passenger on the transport, Northern Pacific, which ran aground off Sandy Hook.

He was removed safely, and is at Debarcation Hospital, No. 3, in New York, from where he sent a telegram and letter to his parents, notifying them of his safety. The telegram was received Sunday, and a letter came at noon Monday.

The young Xenia soldier was suffering from a severely sprained back, which he received in the trenches on November 5, and he was in a French hospital before embarking at Brest the afternoon of Christmas day. In a letter which was received Monday, he said that he had a severe cold. Beyond that, and the injury to his back, he was getting along all right. He said that he expected to be in the hospital for two months yet.

Ralph Richards went to Camp Sherman last June 25. He sailed September with the Eighty-fourth Division, but after reaching France was transferred to Company C, 138th Infantry. He was at the front continuously from October 13 to November 5, when he was hurt.

Mr. Richards said that Herman Fisher of this city and Raymond Estlin of Yellow Springs were in the hospital with him in France, but did not sail at the same time.

Inaction Never Right.

Milton's lines: "They also serve who only stand and wait," are controverted by the indolent and incompetent as palliative of their inaction. Ponderers and joke makers might see in our "standing and waiting" at ticket booths, and station platforms a "serving" that is most assuredly not patient! To truly live and act the poet's lines our waiting (our quiet hours) must be pregnant with eternal vigilance of the mind and soul lest the activities that follow fall in helpful initiative and effectual accomplishment.

Two Meanings of Plantation. The word plantation is used principally in the southern states, where it originated in old slavery times, to designate a farm cultivated by negroes, as a cotton plantation or a sugar plantation. In Maine it has a distinctive meaning, representing a form of government smaller than a township. In that state most of the functions of local government are performed by the town or township. In addition to 17 cities and 399 towns, Maine has 78 plantations and 131 unorganized places under the names of plantations, grants, etc.

elector governor of New York in 1899. Just after the close of the Spanish American war, and in 1900 was elected vice-president of the United States with President McKinley. On Sept. 14, 1901 Roosevelt became president on McKinley's assassination. On Nov. 8, 1904, Roosevelt was elected president by the largest popular majority ever given a candidate.

In 1912 after he had retired from the presidency he announced his candidacy to succeed William Howard Taft. He became the candidate for the progressive party, which he organized in Chicago after the republican party had declined to accept him as its candidate. His grip on the people, was such that though even opposed by the old line parties he polled a tremendous vote, being defeated by Woodrow Wilson. Taft was third.

It was during this campaign that Roosevelt narrowly escaped death when a bullet intended for him by John Schrank struck the case containing his spectacles and was deflected from his lungs through his shoulder. His health has been poor since that attack.

Roosevelt was twice married. Roosevelt was planning a trip to Europe to visit Quentin's grave. This trip was to be made as soon as he had sufficiently recovered his health. The death of Quentin was a severe shock to Roosevelt, and is believed to have hastened his end.

Archie Roosevelt, another son, was wounded by shrapnel on the Toul front, and decorated with the French war cross as he lay on the operating table. This cross was Col. Roosevelt's most prized possession.

Theodore Roosevelt Jr., was gassed during the fighting at Cantigny. Kermit Roosevelt fought with both British and American armies. Col. Roosevelt was looking forward to a reunion of the whole family when all his boys returned from the war.

He had two daughters, Alice, daughter of his first wife who married Congressman Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, Ethel married Dr. Richard Derby. Roosevelt was for many years contributing editor to the Outlook, and later to the Metropolitan Magazine. Lately he had been writing for the Kansas City Star.

As an explorer, he gained considerable fame. The river of Doubt in South America was mapped by him. Immediately after leaving the presidency he went on a big game hunting trip to Africa, where the natives called him Bwana Twomblo. He wrote a number of books on big game hunting and outdoor life and died in the midst of his trophies.

Bijou.

Tom Mix, daredevil exponent of Western life, out does himself in daring in the new William Fox drama, "Fame and Fortune," which will be shown at the Bijou theater Tuesday evening. Pretty Kathleen Connors plays opposite the "Western star" in this newest of his recent productions.

Tom Mix, certainly mixes it up in this drama of Western life, and he has crowded enough daredevil stunts into the production to vie with an American doughboy in adventures. Mix is a "two gun" man of the original and unadulterated type and the picture is so real that the hero was under the care of a physician after one particularly exciting scene, in which he was shot at with real bullets.

Orphium.

Harry Morey thought he stole a million dollars in the original and unique story "Hoarded Assets," which is pictured by Vitagraph and presented at the Orphium Tuesday night. And then he found he didn't, but all that is told in the picture.

The story is a new one, which helps it more than anything and Harry Morey is one of the screen's best actors, which helps it a whole lot more. Besides there is Betty Blythe, contributing to the general interest of the production and the support includes George Majeroni, Robert Gailard and Jean Paige.

BUREAUS AVERT FIRE LOSSES

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Fire damage in California this year is only 40 per cent of that of previous years, fire underwriters state, due to the work of fire companies initiated by the farm bureaus. To avert a threatened loss of foodstuffs through fire, the bureaus organized local rural fire companies in 366 farm-bureau centers of the state. Of these, 257 companies purchased automobile trailers, containing fire-fighting equipment for grain and grass fires, and 6,391 farmers enlisted in rural fire companies which covered a territory of 15,012 square miles. The loss in California from grain and grass fires was $750,000 a year before sabotage and pro-Germanism increased the fire risks, and it is probable that at least half a million dollars' worth of foodstuffs has been saved by these rural fire companies.

GREAT CROWD IS PRESENT TO HEAR THE ROPER CONCERT

When the word was given out that Mr. A. W. Roper, who spent six weeks with Mr. Biederwolf in an evangelistic campaign here eight years ago, was to reappear in Xenia, in a piano recital, on Sunday afternoon, the people of the community planned to be present.

The day was all that could be desired. The Steinway piano was to Mr. Roper's liking. The congregation early packed the entire building until Mr. Roper was greeted by 1,400 people. It was a wonderful tribute to the character and popularity of this great master who has thrilled the common people, as well as music lovers the world around.

For two hours he carried the audience with him as he played the finest productions of the masters of music. On the program were three of the old beloved hymns, with improvisations by Mr. Roper. The program closed with the audience standing, while he played the national airs of England, France and America.

Don't miss a chance to hear Mr. Roper each evening at First Methodist church, at 7:15.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

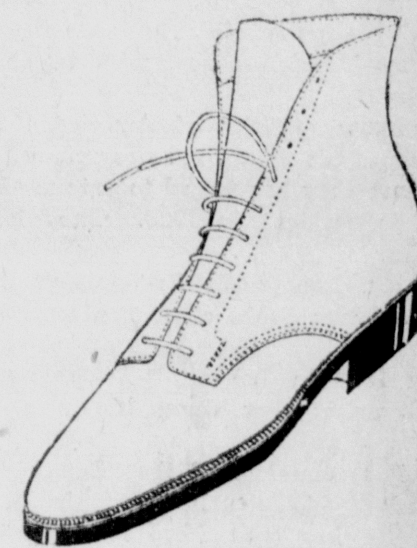

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feed young — to do this you must watch your liver and bowels — there's no need of having a sallow complexion — dark rings under your eyes — pimples — a bilious look in your face — dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

DEATH OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

A nation mourns today the death of one of its very greatest men, Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt. The news of his death came as a great shock, because few knew of his being threatened with the trouble which ended his life.

We suppose he was generally considered the brainiest man in the world. And because of his cosmopolitan character he attracted to himself the friendship of millions of people, not only of his own land but everywhere. "And yet no living man had stronger views on all public questions nor the valiancy to avow them, let the consequences be what they might."

By the boldness, yet loveliness of his personality he attracted to himself friends as with bands of steel.

Many millions of Americans will mourn his death, for one reason, because they had hoped to vote for him for President in 1920. They loved him.

Mr. Roosevelt's first wife lived only four years after her marriage, and died in 1884. He married again in 1886 in London, Edith Kermit Carew, of New York, his now bereaved widow.

His command of the "Rough Riders" (which he had organized), in the Cuban war, gave him his first public honor.

He was governor of New York 1899 and 1900. Was elected Vice-President of the United States Nov. 4, 1900, and on the death of President McKinley, Sept. 4th, 1901, became President. On Nov. 8th, 1904, was elected President by the largest majority ever given any man.

WILL XENIA LOSE THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY?

Meeting Dr. Kyle in the postoffice the other day we casually asked him this question. His answer was "I hope not," and we thought in a rather optimistic tone, with a hopeful view of things, as though he knows more on the subject than the general public. And if we had asked the same question of hundreds of others of our citizens the answer would have been the same as that of Dr. Kyle, "I hope not."

As our Business Men's Association proudly proclaims, "Xenia Excels." But in what? In making shoes, or in being a "string town"? Surely. But also in being the seat of Ohio's Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home. In these patriotic days an honor of no small degree, for what after a war more commendable than that the state should be father and mother to soldiers' orphans. We read with pleasure, a few days ago, that the portrait of an elect lady, long one of our honored citizens, had just been given a place of veneration on the walls of this institution because of her great helpfulness as one of the original promoters of this practical demonstration of our gratitude to our country's defenders.

But in what else does Xenia Excel? As the world goes, is there anything more commendable than to make "Men of God," as ministers are often called? And is not this just what the dear old Xenia Theological Seminary has ever been doing for a century? Preaching is the human agency employed for the spiritual uplift of mankind. It is by preaching that people are constantly reminded of what they are constantly forgetting, their obligations to God—to remind people that by living near to God all else will appear little in comparison with eternal realities.

How little have the most of us thought of the true significance of this noble institution in our midst—the seminary—of the lofty character of its output—the exalting nature of a theological seminary. We have perhaps been glad of its physical benefit to the community in the same way that we are glad of our manufacturers. But this is ignoble as regards a religious institution. We should give it great credit as a helper in the cause of God, the same as we give credit to our churches and all their influences for the betterment of mankind. This is why we do not want to lose the seminary.

Every Theological Seminary has to recruit its students from the colleges. With the fear in mind that we might lose our seminary, we were quite interested in reading recently some parts of an article by that great and honored originator of the now world-circled "Christian Endeavor" movement, Rev. Dr. Francis E. Clark, applying to the very subject of the lack of interest taken by many religious college professors in urging students to consecrate their lives to the Gospel Ministry. The article in question is mainly biographical, Dr. Clark says:

I should like to show by this chapter of reminiscences what a happy and satisfactory life is that of a minister of the Gospel whose heart is in his work. In these latter days the tendency in many quarters is to deprecate the calling of the ministry. It is not considered the honorable or desirable profession in which our grandfathers and even our fathers rejoiced.

But the true compensations of a minister's life, its intellectual, social and spiritual joys, and the unrivaled opportunities to help and comfort his fellow men, are seldom referred to. Our large colleges, especially in the Eastern states, send very few men to the theological seminaries, and students get little encouragement from presidents or professors. To my certain knowledge, whole generations of students have gone through some of our so-called Christian colleges—colleges founded and endowed in their early years for the sake of recruiting the ranks of the ministry—without the claims of this calling ever being presented.

In one instance I know of, a promising candidate for the ministry was discouraged by his professor of ethics, a renegade clergyman, who told the student not to waste his talents on the pulpit, that he had tried it himself and knew what he was talking about, and that Christianity itself wasn't worth "a hill of beans."

To counteract in any small measure these false and unworthy views of the ministry, I would tell my readers of two happy pastorates which it has been my good fortune to know most about.

I did not decide to become a minister until near the close of my senior year at Dartmouth College. I had a strong desire to earn my living by journalism, having served a brief apprenticeship as an editor of two college papers, and having earned part of my college expenses by writing for other papers and magazines.

But the wishes of my adopted parents, though never strongly urged, influenced, as I believe, of my mother in heaven, and I decided to go to the theological seminary at Andover, then under the care of two of America's greatest theologians, Edwards A. Park and Austin Phelps.

I also gratefully record the influence of Dr. Asa D. Smith, president of Dartmouth College, who occasionally talked with me on the subject and once at least prayed with me that I might become a minister of the Lord Jesus Christ. If the presidents of our large and influential colleges in these days followed Dr. Smith's example, the presidents of theological seminaries would not have to bewail so loudly the lack of students.

FRANK A. JACKSON RETIRES AS SHERIFF OF GREENE COUNTY

He was an efficient, conscientious, faithful official of the county.

This sums up, in a few words, the official record of Frank A. Jackson, who at midnight Sunday, ceased being sheriff of Greene county, and retired to private life.

For two terms as sheriff and two terms as deputy under former Sheriff W. B. McCallister, Frank Jackson was never found shrinking his duties. Under him the important office of sheriff was conducted in a manner that gave credit, both to himself and the county. He turned over Monday morning, to his successor, Sheriff Lincoln Funderburg, his former deputy, an office with a clean record, with every bit of business completed to the minute so far as was possible.

Mr. Jackson came to Xenia eight years ago from his home in Cedarville, to serve as deputy sheriff. Re-entraining from the office to which he was twice elected, he has not decided what line of business to enter, having several projects which he is considering. He and Mrs. Jackson moved Monday to their new home on South King street, between Second and Third streets, which they bought some time ago.

The law requires that the sheriff live in the jail residence until his term of office expires. That home was vacated for Sheriff and Mrs. Funderburg Monday morning.

BOTH GIRLS AND BOYS TEAMS FROM ANTIOCH VICTORS

It was Antioch Day over at Wilmington Friday night, when both the boys and the girls teams of Antioch college won in the double header contest with Wilmington College at the College gym. The score of the boys' game was 34 to 17 while the girls won by the score 17 to 14.

It was the lid-lifting farces for both teams of each college and much interest was attached to the affair because of the intense rivalry that has always existed between the two schools. In the curtain raiser, the Yellow Springs girls had things their own way in the initial period, the half ending 16-6 in their favor. They managed to keep a slim lead in the final period and turned the Quaker girls back with defeat. Antioch lined up as follows: Centers, Misses Ruth Shoup and Olive Huston; guards, Misses Bernice Taylor and Margaret Meredith; forwards, Misses Mildred Adams and Bernice Funderburg; substitute, Miss Eileen Blazer.

The Antioch boys' team was only leading by one point at the end of the first period but they increased this lead materially during the final session and easily copped the contest. Antioch lined up with Athey and Charles Vannorsdall at forwards, Harold Little at center and Warren Vannorsdall and Barr at guards. Stretcher was substitute.

Reason for Term "Royal."

Naturally there is a good reason for calling golf a royal game, inasmuch as it was the favorite sport of the kings and queens of Scotland and England, as well as the dukes and earls in ancient times. King Charles, King James I, II, VI, Queen Mary of Scots and others were pre-eminent among the lovers of the recreation.

"THE WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

BRIAN IS WOUNDED BUT NOT SEVERELY.

CHAPTER CXXXIII.

Brian was wounded. He was in the hospital. The nurse had written saying as well as could be expected. He was conscious and had asked her to write—then not to worry. His right arm had been injured, also he had been struck in the shoulder by a piece of shrapnel, making a painful wound.

"Oh, I wonder if he is really not dangerously hurt!" Ruth exclaimed when she had finished the letter. She had turned pale as she read, and the hand holding the letter trembled. "I imagine the nurse is telling it just as it is," her aunt replied. "See, she says she will write again soon. I wouldn't worry, if I were you. He is young, has a good constitution, and will probably be back in the fighting line in a little while."

"Maybe—but—Oh, Aunt, what if something—should happen—if he—should die!" Tears filled Ruth's eyes. "New, Ruth, don't allow yourself to even think of such a thing. Just write him a nice, cheery letter, then believe he is all right. You'll hear again soon." Mrs. Clayborne was not as optimistic as she pretended to be. But she wanted to keep Ruth cheerful, and while trying to do so, speculated not a little on the effect his (Brian's) death, might have on her niece's future.

Ruth told Mandel at once that Brian had been wounded. She told him the hospital nurse had written, and that she was fearful she had not told her the danger he might be in; that they had made light of it so that she wouldn't worry.

"No—I wouldn't feel that way," he encouraged, "I have an idea that those army nurses tell things pretty badly. They haven't time to soften them very much, or to camouflage their words." Somewhat, his manner of speaking comforted Ruth. He looked at things from a man's point of view; not as she and her aunt did. Then, too, he was speaking impersonally. He would be sorry for her if anything happened to Brian, but he did not know him, so talked of him as he would of any wounded soldier. Perhaps she was foolishly anxious. She couldn't expect him to wholly escape, when so many were killed. She shuddered as she thought. But if he were badly wounded he might be sent home as soon as he was a little better, then she would nurse him back to health.

She thrilled at the thought. And until she received the next letter—this one written by Brian himself—she planned all sorts of comforts for the invalid soldier.

"I'll be back on the line when you get this," he wrote, "I was gassed a little. But am almost all right now. My shoulder is stiff, but that's about all. I'll soon be gunning for the Huns who did it."

Ruth also told Mandel of this letter. That he seemed rather indifferent, she noticed, and resented.

"He doesn't seem glad a bit," she said to herself, "and he is usually so enthusiastic over the soldiers." That Mandel had made an effort to show his sympathy with her in her joy as he had in her anxiety, she could not know. Or that he had taken himself to account more sternly than she could or would do, because of the realization of his failure.

But Ruth soon forgot everything save that Brian was once more all right. In his letter he had not mentioned Mollie, and neither had Mollie been his nurse when he was first wounded and unable to write. "Mary Giddings" had been the name signed to the letter written by the nurse.

Ruth was joyous over the idea that Mollie had not been with Brian in his illness. But her joy was short lived. In Brian's second letter he said:

"It was dreadful to be lying there, having that plain looking woman for a nurse—who she did her best—and to know that Mollie was taking care of some fellow who probably didn't appreciate her. I think I fretted more over not having Mollie nurse me, than I did over my wounds. I have seen her twice since I left the hospital. You can imagine I made her miserable by finding fault because she wasn't with me. Just as tho she could run from one hospital to another at her own sweet will just because some foolish home-sick fellow wanted her."

"We took a long walk together late yesterday afternoon when she was off duty. We talked—now that I think of it—principally of you and the kiddie. No one knows how I long to see you both. If the Huns don't do better than they did this time, I shall see you, and tell you how I love you both. Your husband and the kiddie's dad."

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Faul have received a letter from their son Ursley, who is a member of Troop A, 8th cavalry, stationed at Prieto Principe, Cuba. Ursley is a member of General Carpenter's body guard and he is having a good time and enjoying the soldier's life. He is studying Spanish and can now converse with the Spaniards and natives. He writes that he also had the honor of helping to raise the first American flag ever officially raised in Puerto Principe.

Wilmington Journal—Work has been begun on Wilmington's new bowling alley which is to be conducted in the Martin Hotel by Messrs. Zell and Dadds of Xenia. There will be three alleys and the opening will take place in two weeks.

There is some talk that the government is considering the matter of establishing a military camp or barracks at Yellow Springs, and with that end in view, it is said an option has been secured on the famous Neff grounds. The location for a camp is strongly endorsed by General Keifer. The quartering of a large body of troops there would be of great benefit to this section.

Mr. George Soward, the carpenter, has been suffering for several days from lardripes.

Mr. R. D. Adair has been confined to his home for ten days past by a severe attack of the mumps.

Mr. Lewis Allison has been confined to his home for a couple of days by an attack of rheumatism.

Mr. Ernest Schmidt who has been spending the Christmas holidays at his home, returned this morning to his school duties at Kenyon Military Academy at Gambier. Mr. Herman Eavey returned to his school duties at Washington, Pa., last night.

Mr. Al Criste, supply clerk here for the Little Miami railroad, who was operated on some days ago for appendicitis is getting along as well as could be expected though he is still confined to his bed. Mr. Frank Bishop is filling the position of supply clerk in his absence.

Everyday Etiquette

"Please do tell me the proper etiquette for leaving cards when an invitation has been extended to us," asked Maud.

"The rule is to leave a card for every woman whose name appears on the invitation, and if the hostess is a married woman, a man guest invariably leaves a card for her husband also. A woman, however, never leaves her card for the man of the house," said her mother.

What Doctor Pierce Has Done For Humanity!

BY DOCTOR CRIPPS.

It has always seemed to me that Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., should be placed near the top when a list of America's great benefactors is written. He studied and conquered human diseases to a degree that few realize. Whenever he found a remedy that overcame disease, he at once announced it in the newspapers and told where it could be bought at a small price. He did not follow the usual custom of keeping the ingredients secret, so that the rich only could afford to buy the medicine, but openly printed the name of each root and herb he used. And so to-day the names of Dr. Pierce and his medicines are widely known, and they stand for better health and better citizenship.

One of this great physician's most successful remedies is known as Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These are little, sugar-coated pills, composed of Mayapple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap—things that Nature grows in the ground. These Pellets are safe because they move the bowels gently, leaving no bad after-effects, as so many pills do. Very often they make a person who takes them feel like a new man or woman, for they cleanse the intestines of hard, decayed and poisonous matter that accumulates when one is constipated. If you are constipated, by all means go to your druggist and get some of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They may prove to be the very thing your system requires to make you well and happy.

HOW THIS NERVOUS WOMAN GOT WELL

Told by Herself. Her Sincerity Should Convince Others.

Christopher, Ill.—"For four years I suffered from irregularities, weakness, nervousness, and was in a run down condition. Two of our best doctors failed to do me any good. I heard so much about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, I tried it and was cured. I am no longer nervous, am regular, and in excellent health. I believe the Compound will cure any female trouble."—Mrs. ALICE HILLER, Christopher, Ill.

Nervousness is often a symptom of weakness or some functional derangement, which may be overcome by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a thousands of women have found, by experience.

If complications exist, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions in regard to your ailment. The result of its long experience is at your service.

FOUR WORDS PROVED TOO EASY FOR ALL

We thought that by leaving out four words we would "stump" most all of the contestants, but we were fooled, for nearly every one of them turned in correct answers.

The words left out of ads. last week were, "CONTINUANCE" from Whitt, the Jeweler, "SMALL" from The Hockett-King Co., "GARAGE" from The Xenia Garage Co., and "CONDITION" from the City Market Co.

Only just a few answers came in incorrectly, and we believe that those were entirely from lack of consideration, for in some cases the word supplied for the gap would not make sense. Watch the corners carefully if you would win.

Now for this week we are offering four more words, or about the same quality as far as "hard" goes and they should be found by nearly all contestants. Number one starts with R and ends with E. Number two starts with V and ends with E. Number three starts with H and ends with S. Number four starts with F and ends with S.

Now away you go, and let's see every blank turned in, with the four correct words. Oh yes, a little tip, one of them is rather difficult.

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN OPENS AT M. E. CHURCH

The evangelistic campaign under the Trinity and First Methodist churches opened most auspiciously on Sabbath morning.

The evangelist, Will J. Harney, of Wilmore, Ky., arrived on Saturday. The beautiful Sabbath day found a large company at the Sabbath school.

The large auditorium was comfortably filled by an enthusiastic people. The music was inspirational, one special feature of which was a solo, "Just As I Am," which was especially appropriate to the occasion, and was most beautifully rendered by Mrs. D. L. Croy. Another attraction was the special piano number, an improvisation of the familiar hymn, "Jesus Shall Reign," by the master artist, Mr. A. W. Roper.

Evangelist Harney preached the opening sermon from the text, "Loose him and let him go." From the first, the audience was with him.

The evening service was at 7:00 o'clock. Arrangements had been made with Mr. Roper to remain with us during the entire series of services and he immediately took charge of a fine chorus choir, which led in a half hour song service.

The evening congregation overtaxed the auditorium, so that the whole church had to be thrown open. The way was paved for the messenger, who was at his best as he spoke on the theme, "Faith."

People left the service, feeling that indeed the revival had begun in a great many hearts.

The people of the community can't afford to miss a single message, nor to fail to hear Mr. Roper at each service, as he plays the Gospel message into hearts.

Come tonight. Song service begins at 7:15.

OUTLET OF BIG IMPORTANCE

(By H. B. Roe, Assistant Professor in Agricultural Engineering, University Farm, St. Paul.)

The outlet is of the first importance in tile drainage. There must be a clear fall away from it. Submerged outlets, so-called, are not outlets. They still leave that land undrained where the tile lies below the level of the water at the outlet.

An outlet right, purchased, through another man's land is usually worth what it costs. Protect your outlet with a concrete abutment. Screen it against the entrance of birds and animals.

MILLARD FRAME DECORATED WITH CROIX DE GUERRE

Millard Frame, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Frame of Cedarville township, has been decorated with the Croix de Guerre for bravery under fire, and he is believed to be the first Greene county man awarded the French war cross.

Assigned to scout duty in "No Man's Land," it fell to the duty of the Greene county soldier to clean out a German machine gun nest single handed. Caught in a barrage of machine gun fire, he sought shelter in a shell hole, and while there located the machine. He threw a hand grenade in the direction of the nest and silenced the gun. Cautiously moving closer to find out the extent of the damage, he found that four of the six gunners had been killed. Charging the two others he dispatched them both with his revolver. The brave young soldier escaped injury.

Roy Frame, another son of Mr. and Mrs. John Frame, died of pneumonia at Newport News, during the influenza epidemic in October. He was training for an officer in the hydroplane service.

BOYS GROW MUCH WHEAT

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Reports coming to the states relations service of the United States department of agriculture warrant the estimate—considered quite conservative—of at least a 15,000 enrollment in boys' wheat growing clubs in the 15 southern states. These clubs in the South took up wheat growing only a year ago, at which time there was an enrollment of only 2,839 members who were growing this crop.

Real Merit Manifest.

Real merit of any kind cannot long be concealed; it will be discovered, and nothing can depreciate it but a man's exhibiting it himself. It may not always be rewarded as it ought, but it will always be known.—Chesterfield.

STOMACH OFF—BUT GAINED TWENTY- FIVE POUNDS IN TWO MONTHS.

Mrs. G. Followell the Advice of a Friend and Took Pepsinco.

For many years Mrs. G. suffered with indigestion. She could get no help. She doctored and took almost every remedy friends would suggest, but got little relief. She lost in weight till she was apparently nothing but skin and bone. What she ate caused misery and pain. She would bloat and was seldom without headache. Nothing agreed with her. She would get up with a bad taste, coated tongue and a feeling of dizziness. The sight—the odor of savory foods nauseated her. She passed the day in misery and went to bed tired, worn-out and hungry.

A friend finally prevailed on Mrs. G. to try Pepsinco, which she did. A small package proved to her that it was what she needed. In two months time she gained her normal weight and gives credit to Pepsinco.

As Light Goes Through Glass

Just as light rays penetrate through glass, so current passes freely through Threaded Rubber Insulation. Nearly 200,000 tiny threads in each insulator mark the path for the current flow.

The hard rubber stands guard against the formation of short circuits between battery plates.

There's another reason why the Still Better Willard Battery with Threaded Rubber Insulation is worth so much more than its slightly higher cost. It's the one and only battery with the "Bone Dry" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.

Get Right With Your Live Stock Right Now!

The modern farmers knows that winter time is profit time on the farm.

While his fields are idle his live stock is converting feed into higher priced flesh.

If he is going to pack his produce in pigskins with PROFIT, each porker must be protected against the elements.

Otherwise feed-stuffs will be wasted as fuel to keep the stock warm.

The more comfortable animals are kept, the less feed they require.

The present weather affords exceptional building opportunities. Tell us of the buildings and repairs you need and we will show you some prices that will put money in your purse.
